<http://www.genpact.com/home>

S.C Genpact Romania S.R.L. is offering financial services for more companies from all over the world. I am in charge for procurement side for a pharmaceutical company.

I arrived at a critical point when the client was switching the system in which he was working, from SAP to SRM (SAP PS2). In order to take over the helpdesk activity I had to gather as much knowledge about the new system as possible. Making researches and exercises in the test program helped me a lot in implementing and improving the helpdesk services. From October 2013, we as procurement team took the indirect purchasing procedure from the client, the main activity in this process is to create new material codes for inland country's and for out-land country's.

Taking a part of the procurement side it is very important to be very careful and open-eyed at the financial status of each cost center which is used.

Also I am in charge of making everyday reports regarding the pending to process of the Purchase Requisitions and Purchase Orders, daily Purchase Order Tracker and to make sure that everyone is introducing his comments to the critical lines.

Logistic referent

18/Streiului, 400084 Cluj-Napoca (Romania)
www.fujikura.co.jp

As a logistic referent, teamwork is a key of success. In logistic you have to be open minded, self confident and prepared each time for critical situation which can have impact on your day delivery.

As a logistic referent I was representing the company so high professional and prepared actions were needed in each situation. I was responsible for the clients from Germany, Hungary, Poland, Czech Republic and Slovakia. All of the orders came to me and I had to introduce this in the system. After this I extracted a report form the system which I compared with the last report, after this I informed the production about the increases and decreases. The increase of a certain product was to high and the production was not able to deliver this in short time, a delivery plan was needed so that the client don't stop his production.

Everyday transports were needed to be optimized in order that the client receives the ordered quantity and the transport will arrive in time without delay. In order to meet this expectations it was needed a close collaboration with the production and client.

Sales department manager

17/Revolutiei din Decembrie, 530223 Miercurea Ciuc (Romania)
www.schlafkultur.ro

Having great success at the Natürlich retail center in October I received an offer from one of the retail's suppliers, from S.C. Matrac Centrum S.R.L. which was the supplier of Billerbeck mattresses and pillows. I accepted the offer from this company because I was enthusiastic and eager to do what I really want, developing sales strategies and to work what I studied at the university.

One of my succeeded idea was to give an additional pillow for each mattress as a gift. I decided to start this campaign before Christmas. This promotion became a great success, we had to make additional supplies in each retail and to ask for more products from the factory (campaign exclusively for Natürlich retail center)

At this stage the everyday contact with the clients became very important in maintaining the good relationship and in the future collaborations. Dealing with medical mattresses, each sales person was specially trained. This kind of training were held almost monthly in a certain shop.

Another important responsibility was to meet the managers of the client company, to establish future strategy's, developing future ideas in order to have a closer and a prosper collaboration.

In 25th February 2011, 2b Group S.R.L opened his first retail shop in Cluj-Napoca. This was the first Natürlich furniture retail shop. The shop opened within the Ambient retail shopping center.

Being the first shop we had to do our best that the clients meet the German precision what we were promoting. Always the satisfaction of the client was the main objective so that, if the client is satisfied it will return to buy more products and he will tell also to others about your services and products. My main responsibility at this stage of my career was to present the products for the clients and to give advises regarding the furniture, their composition and other advice regarding indoor design. With great ambition and client-centered conception I became in May, June and July the best seller in the shop.

Knowing the German language and learning English at the university, I was in charge with the foreign clients. In June I had a client from Holland which I helped to furnish 4 apartments exclusively with products from our retail center. With this I realized 66% of the main target from that month.

My first job in Cluj-Napoca was as a sales representative at "Paprika Radio". "Paprika Radio" is a Hungarian commercial radio station in Cluj-Napoca. Here I had the chance to improve my professional language skills and also to meet important people from Cluj-Napoca.

As a sales representative the main responsibility of my was to present the radio station to the new customers, it was one of my responsibility to build a client network which was helpful for me and mostly for the radio station.

The first step in building a client network begun with the searching, after this I contacted the client and if he/she was interested to promote the company came the meeting. In the meeting firs of all the client has to became as much information about the radio station and his services as it is possible. If the client decided to promote than comes a brainstorming with the client about the commercial spot, length, text, effects, if the voice has to be a male or a female, after all of this together with the manager we made a price offer. This price offer was presented to the client and the spot to. If the client was satisfied we sign the contract and the spot went into the radio program.

We had also targets, one of my target was to make a contract without having a face-to-face meeting with the client. I contacted a car tuning shop from Bucharest which was a unique dealer in Romania for a certain car type. After long telephone meetings and e-mails, the client became interested in promoting in CLuj-Napoca and we signed a contract within 2 weeks.
